

EMPHASIS

ON EMERGENCY MEDICINE IN TEXAS

NEWSLETTER: JANUARY 2016

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

*Shkelzen Hoxhaj, MD FACEP
President*

IN SERVICE TO OTHERS...

TEACH THE "TEXAS TWO STEP"!

It has been said that "the best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others". As we embark upon a new year, it's important to reflect upon what we have accomplished, what is important in life and resolve to do better...

Government Relations Committee

REPORT

*Diana Fite, MD, FACEP
Chair, Government Relations Committee*

In my many years as your government relations chair, we have dealt with various issues and I cannot remember a single time when we could not portray the "white hat" element in that issue as emergency physicians. We are the ultimate white hat specialty. We know who we are, but to remind or educate others who might read this article: emergency physicians see anybody and everybody, any time day or night, weekends and holidays, and we do not get paid for a very substantial amount of the care that we give...

TCEP Connect 16

REPORT

Melanie Stanzer

Education, networking, friendly competition, health policy updates, and newest technology in EM. Where can you find all these things? TCEP Connect! TCEP's Annual Meeting hopes to provide all of these things in Galveston in April 2016. In an effort to continuously improve our organization and what we can provide to our members, we sent out a survey asking about feedback on TCEP's 2015 Annual Meeting. We were both interested in what people who attended had to say...

UTSW Update

REPORT

Vinay Kotamarti

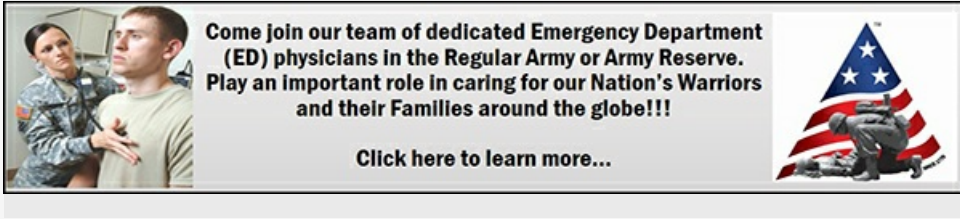

The first semester of medical school varies extensively from person to person. Some find the transition effortless, a few notches higher than their average science classes yet overall something perfectly manageable. Others find the academic rigor exhausting, every day a constant balancing act with seemingly one misstep leading to a self doubt that runs on a positive feedback loop. Regardless of where one lies in the spectrum, all can agree that medical school presents an entirely unique set of challenges...

UTMB EMIG Update

REPORT

Albert Shih and Logan Walsh

UTMB EMIG has been more productive than ever during the 2015-2016 academic year. We currently have 105 active members and expect more to join as we expand our workshops and offerings. This year we are working hard to establish new connections with faculty to offer extensive shadowing, research, and skills workshop experiences for our members. Drs. Kaale, Kim, and Harkey have been instrumental in our success this year. I also wanted to take a moment to recognize the hard work our officers have put in this year...
